

Buckinghamshire Record Society Research Grants

The Buckinghamshire Record Society offers grants to a maximum of £2000 to assist travel and other research expenses, publication costs, and the listing of public and private records relating to the county.

The Society welcomes all applications, and reviews them twice a year, in March and in November, and potential applicants should consult its website for further details and conditions: http://www.bucksrecsoc.org.uk/BRS_grants

John Broad
Chair, Buckinghamshire Record Society
Editor, Records of Bucks